

Review the intended controls with the installer

Use this sheet alongside the full guide and the project's documents. Record what is confirmed, what remains open and who will resolve it. A tick records your discussion; it is not technical approval or a safety inspection.

☐ Switch the group on and off using its normal controls and observe whether all intended lights respond.
☐ Move through the intended brightness range and observe abrupt changes or visible instability.
☐ Review the agreed low setting from the normal seating position, after the room is arranged for the intended use.
☐ Observe any unwanted visible glow or behaviour after normal switch-off and have the installer assess it.
☐ Confirm that separate groups and any named scenes operate as agreed, and retain the final model record.
